NEWS RELEASE For Immediate Release

Medical Inventor/Technologist to Speak at ITEEA International Conference

RESTON, Virginia, July 14, 2010 – The International Technology and Engineering Educators Association is pleased to announce Dr. Joseph “Jay” Zwischenberger, M.D. as its Teacher Excellence General Session speaker at the Minneapolis Conference in March, 2011. Dr. Zwischenberger is a Johnson-Wright Professor and Chairman of the Kentucky College of Medicine Department of Surgery. He has been an important advocate of technology during the development of the artificial lung and played an important role in the patent process in relation to its development. He is renowned for speaking on the topic of the advances in medicine made possible by the use of technology.

In addition to leading a staff of more than 120 surgeons, scientists, and residents, Dr. Zwischenberger has a passion for rebuilding antique cars, is an amateur musician, and enjoys his hobby of farming. He raises chickens, grows an organic vegetable garden, and is learning beekeeping.

Make plans now to join your colleagues as they learn about technology, engineering, and the advancement of medicine.

ITEEA recently announced that one of the top counseling and career development professionals in the United States, Dr. Rich Feller, will be the Program Excellence General Session Speaker. Dr. Feller is an internationally known educator who is particularly well versed in topics such as the Minneapolis Conference theme, Preparing the STEM Workforce: The Next Generation. His extensive work in career development has resulted in over 70 publications, seats on various Boards of Directors and editorial boards, hundreds of professional presentations and workshops, and countless committees and other service activities.
